'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Two golf bags gathered in the drug store at the corner yesterday afternoon and the subject of their discussion was the feasibility of driving a golf ball down Macdonald avenue.

"Three good drives and if a man hit the ball straight enough, he could reach San Pablo avenue," one of the nuts remarked.

"How about driving down Barrett avenue to San Pablo?" the other nut asked.

Which all gives us a peach of an idea for a golf course. We'd have hole No. 1 the ball park at First street and Macdonald avenue, the first tee being from the Santa Fe. A good mashie shot would put the ball over the fence for an easy two.

Then we would tee off from the top of the grandstand and shoot for hole No. 2, which would be the big bay window in the public library. There should be an easy shot.

Tee No. 3 would be a manhole at the corner of Fourth street and Macdonald avenue, while the third hole would be a manhole at Seventh street and Macdonald avenue. Par would be three—and an easy one.

And so on and so on, until one reached San Pablo avenue, which would be the ninth hole.

The usual rules of the golf course would apply. When your ball breaks a sedan window, count one stroke as a penalty. If the driver is hit, the stroke wouldn't count. And if the driver were killed, three strokes would be subtracted from your score.

Think of all the hazards—street cars, Christmas shoppers, and what have you.

The more we think of it, the better we like it.

CHINESE KILLED BY TRAIN HERE

Smart Trio

POSING between Eunice Burgess, left and Marjory Kennedy, is Eli, the mathematical colt of Sacramento. Maybe it's because Eli possesses an unusual store of horse sense, or his pretty teachers are unusually smart, but anyway, the colt is able to count to 10, add, multiply and even distinguish various colors. Not bad for a wobbly-legged young fella not quite a month old.

CHURCH MEN NAME HEADS

George M. Clarke was last night elected president of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Christian church at a meeting and dinner of the organization last evening. W. A. Brown is the retiring president. Clarence Brown was appointed to the position of vice president, while Allen Moore was elected secretary treasurer of the organization. Rev. In speaking of the present business depression he pointed out that there are 65 billion dollars in savings banks in this country, and that divided among the 120 million inhabitants of the United States, it would give $458.33 per capita. He stated that Christian motives can overcome this depression and that attempts to create work should be made by everyone. He also said that anyone can not claim to move under Christian motives if he is a believer in war.

Madeline and Marjorie Whittlesey presented a cello and piano duet during the program, while Miss Belle Woodford sang, accompanied by Mrs. Primus Bennett. A vocal solo was presented by Clarence Brown, and Miss Ruby Black was heard in a vocal solo, accompanying herself on the piano.

DOCTOR GIVEN SENTENCE ON DOPE CHARGE

MONTEREY, Dec. 16.—UP—Dr. David E. Matzko, Carmel surgeon and former society physician at San Francisco was today fined $100 and given a six months suspended sentence on a charge preferred by the State Narcotics Bureau.

Dr. Matzko was charged with obtaining narcotics fraudulently after Agent F. J. O'Connell of the State narcotics department found a quantity of cocaine in his possession last night.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ray Baugh the physician admitted using the narcotics for "doping" race horses two of which he owns.

He also admitted being a narcotic user himself. The physician had obtained 2000 grains of cocaine since July state agents said, and this directed their suspicions toward him. He is said to have used names of former patients without their consent, to secure narcotics on prescription.

A similar charge was pressed against the physician in San Francisco this year, but he was freed.

Dr. Matzko's race horses have won several events at the Monterey state fair.

DRY LAW IS HELD NULL BY JUDGE

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 16.—UP—Federal Judge William Clark today ruled the 18th amendment invalid on the ground that it was improperly ratified.

The judge filed an opinion declaring that ratification of the prohibition amendment by three-fourths of the state legislatures was not the method prescribed by article 5 of the constitution for amendments effecting a transfer from the state to the federal government. The question at issue was not before the supreme court in the so-called national prohibition cases of 1920 when the dry amendment was upheld, he held.

That Judge Clark's opinion be passed upon by the United States supreme court was conceded tonight by counsel. It was pointed out that in the case of the quashing of an indictment, which was a part of the opinion, the government may appeal directly to the supreme court rather than to the circuit court of appeals.

Lawyers Aid

The judge's own views in regard to possible reversal in a higher court were indicated by this sentence: "In my opinion meets with a cord reception in the appellate courts, we hope that it will at least have the effect of focusing the country's thought upon the neglected method of considering constitutional amendments in conventions."

Meanwhile, however, the ruling raises from obscurity to prominence, as a cause celebre often will, a township clerk and an innkeeper in northern New Jersey whose troubles with the dry laws brought to their aid a distinguished (Continued on Page Eight)

PROBE OPENS IN FATAL ACCIDENT

An unidentified Chinese was instantly killed early last night when he was struck by the Southern Pacific "Owl" near the Nobel siding last night.

The body was brought to Richmond by the train crew and was turned over to Coroner Aubrey Wilson who is conducting an investigation.

The man, according to the train crew, was walking directly down the tracks when he was struck by the east-bound train.

Letters found in the man's pockets led authorities to believe that he was Do Poi Tung, 884 Washington street, San Francisco. However, this name will be checked today.

The train crew included Engineer E. H. Thomas, Fireman E. T. Johnson, and Conductor H. E. Swansley, all of Oakland.

The fatal accident occurred at the point where the Southern Pacific train was held up and robbed several weeks ago.

Defense attorneys have contended that Leu, 61 years old and weighing only 110 pounds, was not strong enough to kill Mrs. Baker.

Another witness was Lincoln U. Grant, business manager for Mrs. Baker, who offered to prove that he was in Berkeley when Mrs. Baker was killed, and that he did not return to San Francisco until after the funeral.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—UP

Disregarding information that Leu, 61 years old, was indicted on a charge of murdering Mrs. Rosetta Baker, actress and club woman, a coroner's jury returned a verdict here late today that Mrs. Baker's death had been caused by "a person or persons unknown."

Police claimed the verdict was not a point against their case because they had not made public some of their evidence at the inquest. They said they were satisfied with the indictment returned against Leu Monday night.

Attorneys for the Chinese houseboy, an employee of Mrs. Baker, contended the jury's decision was a victory for them.

The most prominent witness at the inquest was Dr. A. M. Moody, who performed the autopsy. He testified that Mrs. Baker had been "choked to death by human hands" and had not been killed by the bed sheet that was found draped around her throat.

Defense attorneys have contended that Leu, 61 years old and weighing only 110 pounds, was not strong enough to kill Mrs. Baker.

Another witness was Lincoln U. Grant, business manager for Mrs. Baker, who offered to prove that he was in Berkeley when Mrs. Baker was killed, and that he did not return to San Francisco until after the funeral.

END OF FIGHT GAME HERE SEEN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—UP—The end of boxing in California is forecast by James Woods, chairman of the state athletic commission, unless immediate steps are taken to reform the sport.

"Boxing cannot survive under present conditions," said Woods. "The racketeer has made his appearance. That at once stamps the sport as a racket. To keep out the racketeers the racket must be stopped and the only way to stop the racket from being governed by racketeers is to call in the power of the law, vote against it and start all over again. If the law steps in and forbids boxing, the racketeers will have to go and I am confident that such a step is the only salvation of the sport."

A committee, appointed by governor C. C. Young, is at present investigating boxing in California as an aftermath of the death of Frankie Campbell, young California heavyweight who died following blows struck by Max Baer. The result of the committee's investigation of boxing conditions probably will be made public the latter part of this month.

In contrast to all other sports in this state, boxing has taken a big slump at the box office. A comparison of the boxing receipts in California for November, 1929, and November, 1930, reveals that $200,604.75 was taken in a year ago as against $118,537.30 for the past month this year. The boxing tax shrank from $8,445.73 to $5,737.50.

Commissioner Woods, who has known personally most of the famous boxers from John L. Sullivan time down to the present era, tendered his resignation to Governor Young some months ago, but recalled it when the Campbell-Baer scandal broke. It is doubtful if he will elect to retain his present post much longer.

"I am very fond of boxing," said Woods. "It is a shame to see it contaminated at the present time by such undesirable who saw fit to enter the sport in the capacity of managers because 'easy money' at the expense of good natured fighters was in sight."

"The art of self defense will never cease as long as the human blood contains red corpuscles. It will go on to the end of time. Fighters have broken the law in the olden days and it's a sure bet they'll continue to do so. Sullivan and Mitchell fought in France against the biddings of the lawmakers. So did Sullivan and Kilrain. So did Pett and ago."

City Cage League Shows Promises

The first round of the Richmond City Basketball league of 1930 has ended, and hoop enthusiasts of Richmond are aware that they have been seeing probably the fastest and closest competition ever displayed in the local league.

This season's league is no one-sided circuit. Every team in the loop has won at least one game, and many teams rather low in the league standings have never been defeated by an overwhelming score.

Every team in the league has lost a game, and there are at present no league-leaders who are too far out in front to possibly be overtaken by the other contestants. Richmond sportsmen have certainly been afforded a maximum number of treats this season on the Roosevelt waxed floor.

At the end of the first round Santa Fe is holding a two game lead in the A division competition. They have won five games and lost one, thereby leading the McRacken Clothiers by two wins. The Clothiers have been beaten three times. The Studebakers and Odd Fellows are closely trailing the Clothiers with a total of two victories and four losses.

Santa Fe has played probably the most consistent brand of basketball of the entire A division. After a setback by a one point defeat in the first game of the year, the Santa Fe boys have never been shown sensational improvement in each game that they have played. McRacken's Clothiers started out well, but have been unable to make their way so easily towards the conclusion of the first round.

The Studebakers got off to a slow start, but, until Monday night had not lost a contest since Nov. 20, when they were edged out by Santa Fe. Odd Fellows have also been battling hard in this year's league, their first time in the circuit. Several weeks ago they had a chance to go into a tie with Santa Fe for first place, but were not quite able to make the grade and since that time have been gradually left behind by the Santa Fe and Odd Fellows. However, they are still extremely dangerous, and are liable to smash through toward the upper regions of the division.

This year's B division competition has closely vied with the A division in general interest and close competition. All four teams have been fairly closely matched, and many spectators have loaned considerable interest to the division's competition.

The Garfinkle Clothiers are at present holding the division lead by the narrow margin of one victory. They have won five contests and lost one. The Civic Center Tires are running them a close race with four wins and two losses. The Mastercraft Roofers are occupying third position with two successes and four defeats, while Ben Malik's Clothiers are fourth with one win and five defeats.

The Garfinkle athletes have shown plenty of dash and teamwork this season, yet they have not been able to draw away from the plucky Civic Center Tires. The Tires have been up against plenty of stiff competition, but have successfully weathered many terrific storms. They are certain to give the speedy Garfinkle boys a close race for the division title during the final round.

The Mastercraft Roofers have been fighting desperately to raise their standing in the division, and it is fairly certain that they will climb during the second round. The Clothiers have been having a maximum of bad luck this year, being edged out by the narrowest of scores. Yet they have a strong offensive that should do greater damage during the final half of the 1930 season.

This year's league began Nov. 3 in Roosevelt gymnasium before a record crowd. At that time, Santa Fe defeated 20 to 19 by McRacken's quintet, while the Civic Center Tires defeated Ben Malik's Clothiers 23 to 13.

On Nov. 6, the Odd Fellows edged out the Studebakers 26 to 24, and Garfinkle's gained a 30 to 14 victory over the Mastercraft Roofers.

McRacken trounced the Studebakers 24 to 19 in a close battle on Nov. 10, with the Roofers claiming a 25 to 23 victory over Ben Malik's Santa Fe. Come through to hand a 23 to 13 defeat to the Odd Fellows Nov. 13, and the Garfinkle boys earned a narrow 20 to 19 victory from the Tires.

The Santa Fe warriors triumphed over the Odd Fellows 23 to 13 on Nov. 13, while the Tires went down before Garfinkle's by a score of 23 to 19.

On Nov. 17, the Odd Fellows put up a terrific stand against McRacken's and succeeded in defeating the Clothiers by a score of 23 to 18. Garfinkle's Clothiers narrowly edged out Ben Malik's boys by a 23 to 21 score.

Santa Fe trounced the Studebakers 36 to 28 on Nov. 20, while the Roofers defeated the Tires 23 to 11. On Nov. 24, the McRacken five went down by a 21 to 17 score before Santa Fe, while the Civic Center squad won from Ben Malik's by a score of 28 to 21.

The Studebakers recovered on Dec. 1 from the slump into which they had fallen since the league opening and defeated McRacken's Clothiers 23 to 16. Ben Malik's also broke into the win column by defeating the Roofers 23 to 20.

On Dec. 8, Santa Fe had to work exceedingly hard to defeat the Odd Fellows 28 to 25, while the Garfinkle athletes suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Civic Center Tires, who gained a 26 to 24 victory.

McRacken's players recovered from their slump on Dec. 11, when they defeated the Odd Fellows 17 to 16. Ben Malik's Clothiers went down before the Garfinkle boys 23 to 16 on the same evening.

The first round of the league

MISSING MAN FOUND WITH INDIANS

DEATH VALLEY JUNCTION, Dec. 16.—UP—Ralph Farnum, New York theatrical agent, who had not been heard from since he went into the desert early in November for his health, was found late today living with a tribe of Piute Indians.

Farnum was located by one of three parties which set out from Death Valley Junction early today. Fear for his safety was occasioned by the finding of one of his burros in a starving condition in Furnace Creek Wash Saturday.

When he learned that his absence had caused a search to be started, Farnum was upset.

Announcement that he had been found was made by Sheriff Harry Goper here.

Farnum said he was well acquainted with Death Valley. He told searchers he was living with the Indians because they were friendly and he liked them. He said he had missed the burro and thought it had strayed into the mountains and would return to the Indian camp.

Major Denies
Slaying Of Wife

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Dec. 16.—UP—With an emphatic "I did not," Major Charles A. Shepard, 59 year old Army physician on trial for his life in federal court here today denied he murdered his wife with bichloride of mercury poisoning.

The Army officer traced in detail his life with Mrs. Zennan A. McCoskey Shepard from their marriage in 1916 to the day she died in Fort Riley, Kan., June 15, 1929.

Excessive use of alcohol for the past 15 years was given by Major Shepard as the cause of his wife's depressed condition and illness which led to her death.

High Grid Champ
To Enter N. D.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—UP—Norman (Red) Franklin, quarterback of the championship Long Beach high school eleven, plans to enter Notre Dame this winter, according to an announcement today by President Neil of the Long Beach board of education. Frank is rated the best high school backfield man in southern California. He gained an average of 7 1/2 yards in the final game which gave Long Beach the championship.

closed last Monday night, when the Santa Fe casers defeated the Studebakers 38 to 24 in a game of surprises, and the Tires defeated the Roofers in an extra inning affair by a score of 31 to 25.

There will be no more league games until Jan. 5, when McRacken's meets Santa Fe and Ben Malik's Clothiers tangle with the Civic Center Tires.

Until that time, basketball fans of Richmond can only dream of the fine things to be offered them by the second round of the basketball season of 1930-31.

By Burris Jenkins Jr. SCHMELING IS ORDERED TO FIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—UP—Max Schmeling must defend his world's heavyweight championship in a return bout with Jack Sharkey, the New York state boxing commission ruled today.

The commission sent a cablegram to Schmeling giving him 15 days of grace in which to accept a challenge for a bout made by Sharkey.

"There is on file in this office a challenge directed at you by Jack Sharkey," the commission cablegram read. "Your six months period in which to defend your title expired Dec. 12. You are directed to advise within 15 days of date your acceptance of above challenge."

Schmeling won the title from Sharkey at the Yankee stadium here June 12. The championship changed hands because of a foul which occurred in the fourth round. Immediately after the fight there was a deal of speculation as to whether the championship would be awarded to the German contender because of the foul. The New York commission finally decided to recognize Schmeling after having obtained his promise to again meet Sharkey.

Schmeling was going to be a "fighting champion." He announced this as his intention just as every champion before him had done, and, like the other latter-day champs, Schmeling ducked away from active competition.

Schmeling went back to Germany and while his homecoming reception was not soul-stirring, he was content. He rested among his steins and seidels. Meantime he arranged to return to the states and make some motion pictures. After that he was to go on an exhibition ring tour and then to meet someone in a title engagement.

Grid Player Is Star After Two Years In Game

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 16.—UP—Two years ago, Hush Rhea saw his first football game—and also played in it. This season he was a star, tackle on the University of Nebraska football eleven.

His honor in being a tackle on the Nebraska team becomes greater when it is recalled that the Cornhusker team is traditional for the star tackles it has produced. Veteran coaches who have seen Rhea in action have him added for an all-American berth in his collegiate career is added.

Lincoln, Neb., Rhea's home town of 7,000 inhabitants, has no high school football team because of parental opposition. So when he enrolled at the Cornhusker school here in the fall of 1928, football was a new sport to him.

Three weeks after he joined the freshman squad under Coach Black Rhea found himself a first stringer at tackle, with the annual freshmen-varsity battle scheduled for that afternoon. It was then he saw—and played in—his first real gridiron game.

Rhea lettered on the Husker varsity squad last season, is one of the regulars on the eleven this year and has another season of play before he graduates. He is 20 years old and weighs 200 pounds.

As a member of Coach Henry Schultz's track squad, Rhea is a star in the shot put event and last summer at Pittsburgh annexed the junior shot put title in the national A. A. U. meet.

LOCAL LIONS HEAR GRID TALK

Vincent McNally, assistant coach at St. Mary's college and a former Notre Dame star, yesterday spoke before the Richmond Lions club on the subject of football.

McNally dealt mainly with Notre Dame and Knute Rockne in his interesting talk. In speaking of Notre Dame, he said:

"Notre Dame takes on hard schedules and plays them week after week. Rockne figures it is better to take a licking from a good team than get a bad break and take one from a weak team. In the U. S. C. game the Los Angeles team was over confident. When Musick fumbled in the first play it was the losing event for U. S. C. McNally stated that Rockne is beloved by all the students at Notre Dame, and that his system of having many teams competing in the college works well.

Dr. E. R. Guinan presided as chairman of the day. Soprano solos were sung by Mrs. Violet Williams, while the Lions' orchestra played during the dinner hour.

A report was made by H. B. Mylander on the Lions club outdoor tree in Memorial park.

A life pin was presented yesterday to Robert Humphries, member of Troop Ten of the Boy Scouts for having won the required ten merit badges.

Sharkey To Be Schaaf's Second

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—UP—A second license was awarded Jack Sharkey by the New York State Athletic Commission here today. Sharkey will be in Emile Schaaf's corner when the latter meets Max Baer of California in a heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The commission also renewed Jack Dempsey's referee's license.

Democrats To Block Recess

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—UP—Democrats announced today they would block adjournment of congress over the Christmas holidays until the drought relief bill and possibly other measures are sent to President Hoover for signature.

Representative John N. Garner, Democratic house leader, charged that the Republican house leadership after being defeated yesterday in an attempt to force through a $20,000,000 without provision for human food has resorted to filibustering.

He believes President Hoover is planning to use the holiday period for a public appeal for support in opposing congress into line for his restricted relief program.

Newest Spanish Revolution Fails

By JOHN DE GANDT
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1930 by United Press)

MADRID, Dec. 15.—UP—(Via wireless telephone to the United Press)—Rebillion attempts to overthrow the government and force the abdication of King Alfonso XIII, apparently had collapsed, at least for the present, today.

Not only did the dramatic attempt led by Ramon Franco, aviator and political leader against the government, fail, but I also understand an effort to launch a revolution throughout the entire country has had the same fate.

Reports received by the United Press headquarters here from its correspondents throughout Spain indicated the rebellions over the week-end at Jaca in the north, and yesterday at Cuatro Vientos airport, had been quelled without causing any considerable disturbances.

Martial law prevailed today, and heavy guards were concentrated in Madrid and other large cities. Reports from Barcelona indicated the general strike was worse there today, but the authorities here declared no outbreaks of serious nature had occurred.

SOUTH HARD HIT BY BIG DROUGHT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—UP—Actual starvation has started in Arkansas, worst hit of the 21 drought stricken states, according to letters received by Senators today. "My family is on starvation," said one hand-written letter from a Cash, Ark., man, received by Senator T. H. Caraway, Dem., Ark. "I have eight children and I cannot get a day's work to do. I need help and I need it now. If you can do anything for me I sure would appreciate it. If the government can furnish twenty-five million dollars to a chain of banks it looks as though they could help the starving people of Arkansas."

"I understand from the superintendent of our public schools," wrote an Ashland, Ark., lawyer, "that at least 200 grammar school children are on a slow starvation diet." Thousands of our people, this man said, "will not be able to subsist for another 30 days." His letter was dated Dec. 3.

"The Red Cross has done nothing and proposes to keep on doing so," this man said, quoting a Red Cross chairman for five counties as proposing help for share-croppers on large plantations. The owners, he said, are mortgaged to the limit and have no cash to help.

"The morale of our rural population is breaking down every day," wrote a woman from Elizaburg, Ark. "We await the papers eagerly every day to see what action congress has taken to relieve the unemployment situation. The rural problem is of such magnitude that only the federal government can cope with it."

"I was 70 last week, my eyesight has failed, and I'm feeling my way around," wrote one man personally known to Caraway, who said he used to be a well-to-do and sober farmer. "I have reached the end of my days unless some help is in sight." Caraway sent him a check from his own savings.

"My investigation in the county," wired S. H. Mann, county relief chairman, Forrest City, Ark., "convinces me that one-third of the population is in actual want for food, and the other two-thirds are not able to help."

CLARA BOW IN NEW FILM AT THE FOX

Nine unusual feminine outfits enhance Clara Bow's beauty in her latest starring role in "Her Wedding Night." Presented as a sleek woman of fashion, it is a new Clara Bow who will make her appearance at the Fox-California Theater where "Her Wedding Night" will be shown today only.

Travis Banton, designer of ultra modern wardrobes for Paramount stars, developed his ultra-modern ideas gathered on his recent Paris trip. To Miss Bow's outfit, it includes two street dresses, two at evening dresses, one sports frock, one evening gown, two lounging pajama ensembles and a striking negligee.

Of the street frocks, one is of beige and black crepe, ruffled, trimmed with black crepe. With this Miss Bow wears a yellow hat of black and beige. Her second street outfit is blue crepe, tailored, and trimmed with white pique. With this costume, she wears a corsage of white, blue and red carnations and a blue hat.

The first of her pajama ensembles to be seen in the picture is black satin and white crepe with an embroidered robe of the same material. Miss Bow's shorts frock is of white crepe with brown velvet coat, and with this, she wears a white straw hat with large figured trim.

Her evening gown, declared to be the most striking creation ever worn by the little star in any of her pictures, is of plain black chiffon heavily beaded. Two afternoon dresses of figured chiffon complete the wardrobe.

"Her Wedding Night" is a style reveal beyond even Banton's creations for Clara Bow. Three other noted beauties of Hollywood are in the supporting cast, Rosita Moreno, Geneva Mitchell and Natalie Kingston. For each of these Banton designed several striking costumes certain to win the admiration and eye of feminine hearts everywhere.

Arrangements for the funeral of Miss Sara Florence Gilmore, 23, who passed away at her home, 727 Tenth street yesterday after a long illness were still pending at Trueman's undertaking parlors in Oakland last night.

The deceased woman, a native of Pennsylvania, is survived by her mother, Mrs. T. B. Neilson, a brother Russell Gilmore of Albany, another brother Harry Gilmore of Pennsylvania, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Redmond of Erie, Pa., and Mrs. Ruth Kirsten of Oakland.

Lamont Sees Depression End In Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—UP.—Confidently looking to the future and a continuation of the forward march of business, Secretary of Commerce Lamont predicted tonight that the present recession is over and the upward movement in industrial efficiency and production per man will be resumed.

His report to President Hoover on the status and progress of American industry and commerce during the fiscal year 1930 revealed clearly and concisely the effects of the stock market crash of a year ago, but pointed out that "practically no cuts in wages have been made as a result of the recession."

Describing the advance in efficiency of production and the fundamental cause of living which has characterized every decade of our national existence, Lamont said: "This progress in the production per man during recent years is conclusive evidence that the advance in economic activity has not been wholly or even chiefly a mere unwinding in the business cycle to be followed by an equally great downward movement."

"It has marked a permanent achievement and when the present recession is over the same upward movement will unquestionably be resumed."

Employment during the year declined 3.7 percent, the secretary said, while wages fell off 5.3 percent, the difference being accounted for by the prevalence of part-time work.

The cost of living declined about 5 percent between November, 1929 and June 1930, according to the report.

Barthelmess To Abide By Child Case Decision

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 16.—UP.—Richard Barthelmess, screen actor, will abide by the decision of a New York arbiter, awarding his former wife, Mary Hay, part-time custody of their small daughter, the actor said today.

The arbiter was Dr. S. Parks Cadman, Brooklyn, N. Y., minister, who acted at the request of both parents. He decided that the mother, now Mrs. David Bach, should have the child, Mary May Barthelmess, 8, six months of each year as stipulated in a divorce agreement in 1925.

Commenting on the decision today, Barthelmess said:

"For nearly six years my child has made her home with me. According to the agreement in 1925, the baby's mother was to have her half of each year, but she neglected to exercise these rights and the child has been with her mother a total of 11 months in all this time. I am spring Mrs. Bach demanded the child go east, and I believe, and still believe, that it was better for the child's welfare not to spend the summer months in New York City."

Dr. Cadman has decided that the mother could not be denied the child and that the child must be removed from her school now and sent to New York until July. This will be done as soon as proper arrangements can be made.

W. P. To Start New Service

OAKLAND, Dec. 16.—Western Pacific service between this city and Reno is expected to be considerably augmented Jan. 4 when the first passenger train is to be routed over the Sacramento Northern lines.

Announcement of the new train service was made by E. E. Coyle, division superintendent, but could not be confirmed at headquarters. Harrison M. Adams, president of the road was out of the city, and officials said that definite announcement of the new service would have to await his return.

With the establishment of the new service the Western Pacific will be competing directly with the one other railroad that runs to that section of the country. The route now followed by the Western Pacific makes it necessary for trains to come via way to Stockton and Niles to this city.

MOTOR GROUPS WILL HOLD MEETING

With the object of launching a "get together" movement on the part of the five coastal states regarding uniformity of motor vehicle legislation, a two-day conference will be held next Friday and Saturday in San Francisco. The gathering has been called by Percy F. Towne, chairman of the Motor Vehicle conference of California, at the instance of the executive committee of the conference and various officials of neighboring states.

These invited to take part in the discussion include the governors of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona; Governor-elect Ralph of California; officials of state highway commissions; officials dealing with motor vehicle registration and representatives of the California State Automobile association, Automobile Club of southern California, Automobile Club of Washington, Island Automobile association, Oregon State Motor association, Nevada State Automobile association and Arizona Automobile association.

The conference will open with a luncheon meeting Friday at the Whitcomb hotel, followed by a session beginning at 9:30 Saturday at the William Taylor hotel.

Rules of the road and other features of motor vehicle laws in which there is now conflict and confusion between the various western states will be discussed. An effort will be made to agree upon a definite program of action toward bringing about the desired uniformity through amendment of vehicle laws at approaching sessions of the state legislatures. Attention will also be given to reciprocal relations between the states in the administration of the laws.

Commenting on the plan, Towne declared that uniform laws would be an advantage to residents of the states affected and also contribute to the convenience of visiting motor tourists from the east.

TRADE GROUP ASKS MORE POWER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—UP—A request for broader power in its investigations of alleged violations of the Clayton and Sherman anti-trust acts was made of congress by the federal trade commission in its annual report made public tonight.

An amendment to the commission's organic act—the federal trade commission act of 1915—was recommended to "set at rest any doubt" as to the commission's authority to subpoena witnesses and force the submission of necessary documents in cases before it.

The report also asked an amendment to the act to "put beyond question the grant of specific authority" to make investigations upon request of either the senate or house in aid of their legislative functions.

Fireproof Quarters
Renewed demand was made by the commission for fireproof quarters as a result of the fire which wrecked its 13-year-old "temporary" war-time building last August. The fire was described as "an event of far-reaching significance and as an important bearing on the current work of this commission." Cause of the fire was reported as "undetermined," the commission said.

Outstanding among the commission's activities this year, the report said, were the following:

Examination of the financial structure of several large utility holding companies, including Electric Bond and Share, American Gas Electric, American Power and Light, National Power and Light, W. B. Foshy companies.

Electric Power
Investigation of the amount of electric power transmitted over state boundaries, indicating a much larger total inter-state movement of electric energy in 1929 than 1928.

Comprehensive comparison of chain and independent store prices in three cities, Washington, Cincinnati and Des Moines, with greater progress in the chain store inquiry shown for the previous year because of having for the first time sufficient field and office workers.

Holding of 57 trade-practice conferences with as many industries, looking to the revision of certain rules adopted by those industries at conferences held with the commission.

Damage Suit Is Compromised

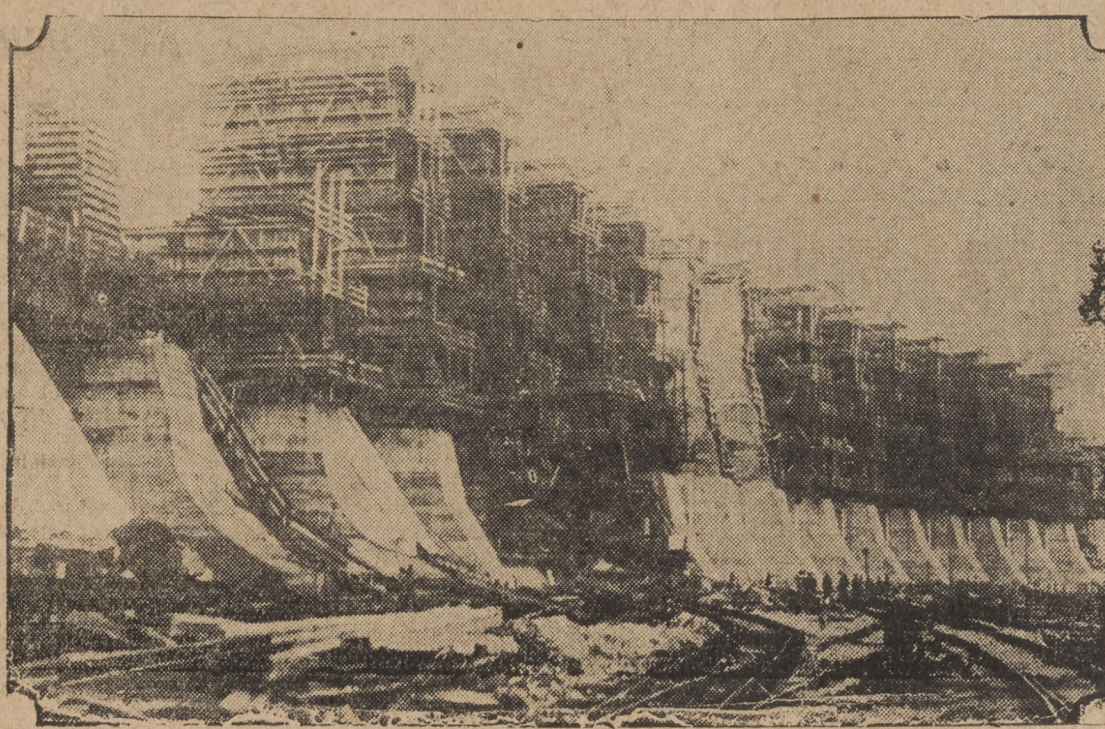

MARTINEZ, Dec. 16.—Permission to compromise a damage claim against Christian Anderson for $2950 was today granted John Byars, 20, by Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie.

The cause for the claim for damages was a collision between an automobile and motorcycle in Berkeley July 9, 1929. The petition for acceptance of the compromise was made through Lawrence Byars, father of John Byars, represented by Attorney Thomas M. Carlson.

S. F. Brokerage Firm Declared To Be Bankrupt

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—UP—Although officials of Gorman, Kayser and Co., brokerage firm with offices in nine cities of the state, expressed confidence that assets of the firm would exceed liabilities, they filed a petition for a receiver in superior court here today after the governing board of the San Francisco stock exchange had announced their suspension.

"When liquidated, the firm's assets will, in our judgment, prove considerably in excess of liabilities," the senior partners, A. W. Gorman and E. P. Kayser, said in a statement.

"It appears probable there will be a minimum of delay for our customers and other creditors. Present liquid assets, however, will not suffice for all the demand liabilities," the firm declared.

Asked to meet all these liabilities at about the same time, such a demand might occur under present conditions and for this reason we felt it best to apply for a receiver, that he may conserve the assets and convert them as rapidly as possible into a fully liquidated form."

For the fourth known time an Oakland man is facing a driving while intoxicated and possession of liquor charge following his arrest this week by El Cerrito police.

Lowell Alderson Oakland was apprehended by Officer Howard Thullen after he was alleged to have driven along San Pablo avenue in a reckless manner. He was released from jail on $250 bail, and will appear before the police court this week.

Alderson appeared before the El Cerrito police court on a similar charge at a previous time and he has also faced similar charges in Berkeley and Crockett.

Mrs. Cushing Is Awarded Divorce
MARTINEZ, Dec. 16.—An absolute decree of divorce from George M. Cushing, Richmond contractor, was awarded to Mrs. Dorothy Cushing of San Diego today by Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie.

Mrs. Cushing had returned to her husband after being awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce in March, 1927. McKenzie ruled that this fact did not void the decree as the return had been only a conditional reconciliation.

Mrs. Cushing had Will S. Robinson as her attorney.

Coordination Asked For Transportation

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Better transportation service eventually will be provided by coordinating rail, highway, waterway and air traffic under companies engaged in general transport, than by the operation of these agencies as separate companies competing and quarrelling with one another, asserted John J. Pelley, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad today. He told the twenty-fourth annual convention of the association of life insurance presidents here this afternoon that as competition becomes more severe it is essential that the most suitable methods of transportation be used and that there is no more important question before the public today than the solution of this problem. He declared himself an optimist as to the future of the country's railways.

"One frequently hears of the struggle between the two giants in the transportation field; the motor industry and the railway," he declared. "That attitude is wrong; transport means the movement of freight or passengers from one place to another, irrespective of the agency. Sir Joseph Stamp, the great British economist and transportation expert, recently emphasized the necessity of looking upon transport as a whole, pointing out that, if this is not done, nothing but chaos and waste of capital and human energy can follow, and today railroad men must, and are giving, greater attention to general principles of transport. This attitude is necessary because better service will eventually be provided through a coordination of rail, highway, waterway and air traffic under companies engaged in general transport than if these agencies are operated as separate companies, competing and quarrelling with one another."

Pointing out that private automobiles and motor buses have been responsible for the loss of much railway passenger business and that for certain types of travel buses are more economical, Pelley continued: "Experience thus far indicates that the railways will continue to handle the large proportion of long-distance passenger travel and the heavy commuter travel in and out of large cities where highway and street congestion and parking difficulties prevent the use of highway vehicles."

Although 1929 was a record year in the volume of freight hauled, the speaker said that the increase over the previous ten years was only 6.7 per cent, while in earlier periods it was generally conceded that freight traffic doubled every ten or twelve years. "Of course," he pointed out, "as industry became stabilized and as the country developed, it could not be expected that freight traffic would continue to grow at the same rate, but an analysis of railroad tonnage shows that motor trucks have made substantial inroads."

"Until recently, not so much has been heard concerning the freight traffic being taken by automobile trucks because railroad freight traffic has continued to increase. In New York City, a recent analysis shows that 20 per cent of all fruits and vegetables were brought in by truck, and generally the same situation exists at every city."

"Unquestionably, some unknown part, probably a very material one, of trucking on the highways is not economic. An investigation by the state university of a great agricultural state indicated that the trucking of livestock cost the shippers of that state $400,000 more in one year than if the livestock had been shipped by rail. The truck furnishes a convenient service in that it calls at the farm or place of business of the shipper, but many shippers are paying highly for this convenience."

Turning to the inland waterways discussion, the speaker continued: "There was a time when the movement of freight divided into two classes, fast freight and slow freight. Today, all freight is 'fast freight' as industry demands speedy transportation, and coal and fresh fruits move at sub-

HEARING HELD ON PLUMBERS EXAMINATION

No action was taken by a special committee meeting yesterday afternoon to investigate charges that the city plumbing ordinance examinations are "unfair," as charged by E. E. Scott, a real estate man.

Scott, appearing before the city council Monday night, had alleged that E. Plintitsky, the man whom he had hired to do the plumbing work for a number of homes here, had been handed a number of questions at his examinations that even a "craftsman could not answer."

It was brought out at the hearing yesterday that the tests given plumbers who wish to receive a license as a master plumber in Richmond are the same as given in Oakland, and that Plintitsky had misunderstood the nature of the examination.

It was further brought out that Plintitsky had never taken a master plumber's examination in California.

As a result of the long drawn out hearing, it was agreed that Plintitsky would take the examinations in Richmond.

Scott was censured by Councilman Russell Meyer when the Plintitsky admitted that he had never taken a master plumber's examination in the eastbay region. Scott had stated at the council meeting that the plumber had taken the tests.

Those present at the meeting were City Manager J. A. McVittie, City Clerk A. C. Faris, Plumbing Inspector C. S. Ford, F. W. Bradbury, member of the plumbing board; City Health Commissioner Dr. C. R. Blake, E. E. Scott, Councilman John Hartnett, Councilman Russell Meyer and Plintitsky.

Burglar Suspect To Face Charges

MARTINEZ, Dec. 16.—Although he was not tried within 90 days of the time he was arrested on a burglary charge, Walter Hainline, will face superior court ruling of Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie, who declared that the reason for the delay was reasonable.

Hainline was taken back to Los Angeles following his arrest while allegedly robbing an El Cerrito grocery store and receiving a light sentence when he turned state's evidence in a trial there.

Leo Marcollo, attorney for Hainline had attempted to have the court dismiss the charge on the ground that the trial had not been held within 90 days of the arrest.

Memorial Sealed For War Fliers

PARIS, Dec. 16.—UP—The bodies of the 67 war fliers of the famed Lafayette Escadrille have now all been accounted for, with the exception of six. After the transfer of the body of William Wallace Winter, of Chicago, the crypt of the impressive memorial to the fliers at Garches has been definitely sealed.

There is now the certainty that the missing six will never be found. They are numbered among the half million missing dead of the world war. Several of them were killed early in the war, buried and their graves marked, but blown to pieces by subsequent bombardments.

The families of two of the fliers have had their bodies buried elsewhere, some where they fell in the fields of Champagne or the Argonne; others have been taken back to America. With Winter's body, lie those of 4 other pilots.

Winter, a late arrival in the Escadrille, was killed in combat, March 8, 1918, while flying over the advancing Germans in the Champagne sector.

The memorial, in the form of an arch facing a basin, is one of the most beautiful of war monuments in France.

Ferry Slayer Found Sane By Medico Board

OAKLAND, Dec. 16.—Testimony of three medical experts expressed the belief that Vitorino Russo, 63 year old stone worker charged with the murder of Harry O. Clark on a ferry boat Oct. 2, was sane.

Russo will appear Thursday before Superior Judge John J. Allen for sentence. His plea was not guilty by reason of insanity and not guilty. His being adjudged sane automatically convicts him of manslaughter. It is expected he will be given a one to 10 year sentence Thursday.

When Russo appears before the court he will not be tried by a jury. Only testimony of physicians will be heard. Russo has claimed since his arrest that he had no intention of hurting anyone on the ferry, but that the gun was accidentally discharged while he was examining it. He said however, that he intended to kill his former business partner, Guido Fornicieri.

PROBE OPENED IN RAID DEATH

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 16.—Investigation into the assertion that Prohibition Agents M. J. Buckley and August Morgue had taken a few drinks before they made a raid on a still near Sonoma last week which resulted in the shooting and fatal wounding of a second man, was to be made by Coroner Fred Young previous to the regular coroner's jury probe.

Buckley admits fatally wounding Ugolino H. Prasso in a gun battle which preceded the actual raid on the still. If Buckley is charged with murder William G. Walker, prohibition administrator has said he would ask that the case be returned to the federal courts.

Charles Weiss, 17 year old school boy was admittedly hired by Buckley to guide him to the still. He was present when the shooting started but did not take part in the fray, Buckley testified.

Buckley contends that he had met Antonio Providenti as he was driving a sugar truck along a road. He disarmed the man when along came Prasso who opened fire with a rifle.

Buckley claims that he grabbed Providenti and used his body as a shield before he fatally wounded Prasso. It was testified by a man who brought one of the wounded men to the hospital that the pistol carried by the boy showed evidence of having been discharged recently.

Stories of adventure

SILHOUETTE of a horseman against a desert sky . . . a swaying figure on a storm-swept deck . . . how enjoyable but how little related to your own every-day life are the stories of adventure that you read.

But there are adventure stories of another kind that you come upon every day. Adventures with a thrill and excitement of their own—adventures that you can share. You find them in the advertisements in your daily newspaper.

The advertisements tell you of new experiences that can be made a part of your life. They tell you how it feels to skim along the road in a smoothly powered, new car. To turn a switch on a new radio and command the harmonies of a superb orchestra. To board a limited train and go whirling across the country on a new kind of vacation.

The advertisements do not stop with telling you about these things. They tell you exactly how you can make them your own—most economically and with the greatest assurance of satisfaction. Read the advertisements. Share the adventures in pleasure and satisfaction they offer you!

THE NEW THINGS WOMEN ARE DOING

THE gentleman who first observed that there is nothing new under the sun became too quickly discouraged. He should have waited until the new woman began making all her new records in the news. Surely women today, in their doings and sayings, in their personalities and points of view, are offering novelty enough for the most jaded world. If you doubt it, just run your eye over the following summary of women's activities, as chronicled by the newspapers for the present week:

Aviators first, as they are the very latest and most dramatic of feminine front-pagers. There's Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, who, with wireless and compass out of commission, flew through a terrific gale to a safe landing in the Bahamas—and then walked sixteen miles along a rocky beach to the nearest telegraph station—and then sailed six miles through dangerous surf, although she had had no previous sailing experience. For sheer sportsmanship and grit, where will you find a superior to Mrs. Miller? Yes, she won't admit that she did anything remarkable—in fact, she will only say that she feels humiliated at having failed of her objective, a non-stop, record-breaking flight from Havana to Miami.

Now Miss Winifred Spooner, British flyer, takes wing from Croydon, in an effort to make a night-and-day flight to Cape Town and return, in twelve days—the previous record is twenty-one days. Even with an officer of the Royal Air Force to "spoil" her, it is easy to visualize the tremendous task which Miss Spooner blithely sets herself.

Ruth Nichols, society girl of Rye, N. Y., has just made a record flight from New York to California in sixteen hours, logging by more than eight hours the previous flying time for this course established by Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Martha Bevine, twenty-year-old "flying housewife," immediately took off to try to beat Miss Nichols on the same course, and, though she was forced down, she may well be up again before this column is printed.

THEN, when Congress opened recently, the presence of its group of efficient and intelligent women members on the floor reminded the public of woman's political achievement.

There was New York's own Representative Ruth Pratt, brilliant, beautiful, charming, supremely conscientious, who, re-elected last month from the Seventeenth Congressional District, beat not only one but two male opponents, both of whom concentrated on her the heavy fire of their campaigns.

There was Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, from Florida, also re-elected—nobody even ran against her. Representative Mary T. Norton, New Jersey's comely and courageous Congresswoman—one of the House's not too numerous members who dare to challenge the hypocrisy of prohibition—is another successful political veteran in Washington. So is Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts.

Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, though defeated in her senatorial campaign, made an unusually gallant and tireless fight. The only woman in the House defeated for re-election to the House is Representative Katherine Langley of Kentucky. Representative Pearl Oldfield of Arkansas, did not care to serve another term, and this state promptly sent another woman, Mrs.

What a Prince of a Chap He Must Be

According to the latest reports, Prince Helene of Roumania and little Prince Michael will spend Christmas in Germany. Queen Marie and her daughter Helene are leaving for Belgrade, young Prince Nicholas is starting on a motor tour of the Continent and King Carol will be left to have his Christmas in Bucharest all by his sweet self. The women of the family must think that there are things worse than a wandering boy—one of them being a boy who has ceased to wander.

PATROLLING IN THE AIR

THE New York Police Department registered a novelty in crime detection this week when it attempted to trail a homing pigeon in a police airplane and track down a gang of kidnapers to their lair. The homing pigeon eluded the trailing detectives by joining a flock of other pigeons on a roof tree, but it was a good stunt anyway.

You may soon expect this in crime detection:

SCENE—Hangar No. 17 of the New York Police Department.

CAPTAIN—Hey, you guys, snap out of that checker game. I got something important for you.

AVIATOR COP—Is it an airplane case, Cap?

CAPTAIN—It is. And it's a plop. There's a humming bird up by 118th Street and it's annoying residents by peeping in windows. Get out the airplane and haul it in.

AVIATOR COP—Will we take a machine gun with us? Some of them humming birds is dangerous characters.

CAPTAIN—Yeh, you take a sub-machine gun and let Riley carry eight rounds of bird shot. This peeping business has got to stop if I have to run every humming bird out of town.

AVIATOR COP—Okay, Cap. (The police plane roars down the runway, off on its dangerous mission.)

CAPTAIN—Now, Sergt. Doob, you better strap on your parachute, because I got a tough assignment for you.

SERGEANT—Yes, sir. What is it?

CAPTAIN—Over in South Brooklyn a gang of tough motifs have been drilling holes in people's clothes. They've been doing it right under the nose of the police.

SERGEANT—Don't worry, captain. We'll break 'em up.

CAPTAIN—You better! The commissioner's particularly anxious to eliminate these motifs from the whole precinct. So go after 'em hard.

SERGEANT—Okay, Cap. I will.

CAPTAIN—And if you don't catch any motifs red-handed while they're drilling holes, pull 'em in on suspicion anyway.

SERGEANT—Right-o. I'll rid the precinct of motifs if I have to round up some innocent butterflies doing it.

CAPTAIN—And say, Casey, while you're flying over that district, keep your eye out for a lost canyon. Mrs. Whinnif of 310-28 De Kalb Avenue reported her pet canyon strayed from its cage this morning. The description is three years of age, bright yellow complexion, weight five and a half ounces, and it's got a black spot on its left wing.

SERGEANT—Trust me to pick it up somewhere, Cap.

THIS AND THAT

There wasn't a man at Lady Astor's big dinner. And maybe the viscount didn't enjoy his night off.

The way the Democrats are hammering on Hoover's message they must think Congress is a night club.

A little lesson in patriotism from the younger generation, or overheard in a Brooklyn high school:

TEACHER—What does it mean when the flag is at half-mast?

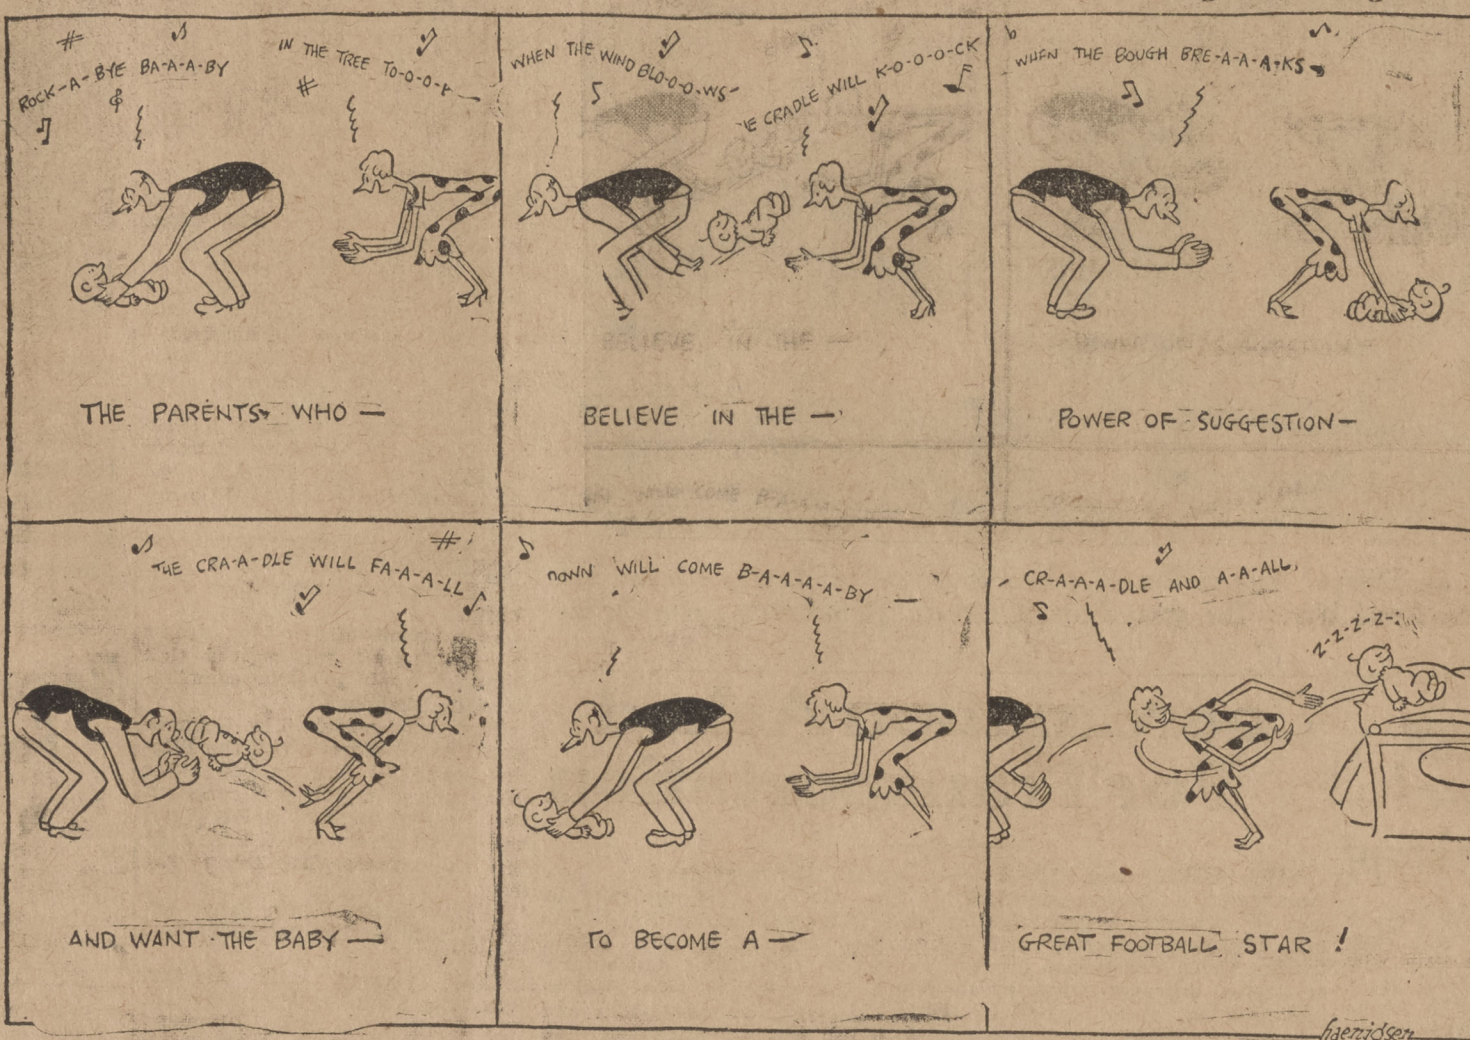

PUPIL—It means the taxi meter is registering.

A Florida reform league objected to nude sun baths on hotel roofs. They claim it stops an aviator from keeping his mind on his business.

What Ho! For Winter Sports

A SUIT OF WHITE CHAMOIS FOR SKIING OR SKATING.

How to Keep Warm—You Don't Look Pretty When You're Cold

By Ann Roberts

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

THIS winter sport idea is all very well—lots of fun and everything. But how to keep warm. For you know it's a freezing business, and folks aren't going to have good times with shivers running up and down their spines.

You want to look attractive—the outdoor girl at her prettiest and best, and to this end you must be swathed in the warmest of coverings. Not bulky, mind you, but weather proof.

Everybody's going somewhere to find ice and snow and zero weather—to Maine, to Vermont, to Saranac, to what have you.

What are they wearing?

Skating Things

WHAT do you think of an entire suit of white chamois? Already you know the advantages in this respect of a chamois jacket—nothing like it for pure warmth and coziness. Well, here is one stylized and complete—the skirt and the jacket made of chamois skin in pure white, the neck and sleeve edges of the jacket being finished in three rows of three colors to give shape and to hug the throat and wrists warmly.

Wearing this, you practically have a guarantee of being the most warmly dressed woman on the pond. You will find it practical, too, for it cleans with certainty over and over again, while none of its shape or protective quality is lost in the process.

Then there is a chamois sleeveless jacket to wear under coats and over blouses. It is shaped nicely, ending just about at the waistline, where it is fitted in a bit, and on the borders of the armholes, around the neck, and at the bottom there are rows of pinking to give it a finish. A highly desirable and extra smart garment to carry along to any winter climate.

No teeth chattering where that is added to other warm layers of clothes.

Both the suit and the extra jacket can be worn on wintry days when golfing at Southern resorts. The color is right for that climate, and the protection of the skin is often the very thing you need.

And while we are on this subject of chamois—have you seen the short chamois pants to be worn under your tweed skirts? Guess you can't get cold in that outfit. The pants are bloomers really and come down to a point above the knees to meet the wool stockings below them.

You can get all these things in suits, but the chamois is easier to handle.

Skiing Tops

TROUSERS for snowshoeing and skiing must be long and fitted at the ankles so that they can tuck under the shoes and the extra tumble-down socks. They are made of knitted stufts or fleeces—preferably the latter because it is so clinging and slenderizing and warm and altogether satisfactory. They must be as trim and sleek as is otherwise possible, and this means good tailoring—well thought out styling.

There is a jacket to be slipped over the head or buttoned straight down the front. It ends at the waistline, fitted in there and tight to hug the figure and add to the trim appearance of the whole.

Now this suit can be all in one bright color, if you wish, or it may be very much varied by using dark trousers and a bright colored top or vice versa. One suit has white pants with a plaid knitted coat. Worn with a white beret and white mittens it is very good looking too.

Extras for Warmth

SCHIAPERELLI'S idea of these lightest weight, sleeveless sweaters, one worn on top or the other, is still excellent style. You can have a lot of fun with the combinations of colors as well as a lot of comfort in wearing them—one, two or three, according to the temperature registered for the day. A yellow, a green and a purple make an interesting assemblage. Paler colors of pink, blue and white are good. You can go on indefinitely once your imagination begins working on the subject.

For skating camels' hair knitted suits are wonderfully attractive. The beret is made of the same material, and then you wear a sheer zephyr blouse, toned in color to the chosen shade of your suit.

Tumble-down socks, scarfs and berets match sweaters and these are in brilliant colors or in plaids to go with the suit that you happen to be wearing.

THIS IS THE REGULATION SKIING COSTUME MADE OF WOOL FLEECE

Telephone Conveniences

It is sometimes necessary to deaden the telephone—this may be readily accomplished by slipping blotting paper under the edge of the bells.

Phones have a habit of sliding on the polished desk or table—get a rubber coin pad such as are used on the showcase in some shops, glue this to the underside of the base and the telephone will stay put.

Keep a three-minute hour glass (you can get these in a variety of colors) near the telephone—it will be handy to time long distance calls.

Do You Know—

Your electric cord will last much longer if you keep it suspended from a hook instead of winding it around the iron when putting it away?

If you soak an orange in hot water the skin will come off easier and more perfectly when you peel it?

A teaspoonful of glycerine added to each pint of rinsing water will make flannels and woolen blankets like new?

You and Your Child

Tit for Tat

TOM was an awful bully. His chief delight lay in pinching all the small boys in the school. His teachers and principal had tried various correctives, all to no avail. One day the principal hit upon a new plan. He held Tom and allowed one of Tom's small victims to pinch the big bully as hard and as often as he wished. And, in telling me the story, this principal said, "Tom was cured! He never pinched another boy in my school."

But I wonder if Tom was really cured or if his delight in bullying found outlet in some other way? I don't think one "cures" a person until one has found the seat of his trouble and eradicated it. There must have been something radically wrong with Tom that caused him to act in this anti-social way. And I shudder when I think of the effect of this "cure" on the small boy who was urged to do the pinching. Did this procedure, I wonder, bring out cruel and vengeful traits in him?

All in all, I think the "tit for tat" method a most unwise one. Mothers sometimes say, "If my big girl hits her little sister, why, I hit her, just to show her how it feels." Aren't these mothers showing big sister a very bad example?

Sometimes little children get into the habit of biting or scratching their playmates. Many a mother has said to me, "I cured my little one of biting people by biting her." I would much rather "cure" a child by taking her away from her playmates every time she indulged in this sort of behavior. This way of handling the matter might not "work" as quickly, but it would be effective in time, as most children dislike being deprived of companionship. And at the same time I would try to find out what was making my child "negativistic." When a young one continually shows anti-social behavior there is usually something wrong with his (or her) environment. He may be "spoiled," or treated too harshly, or be over-stimulated, or there may be some other trouble. But the way to cure him will never "cure" her child by biting him. What can a young one think of a mother who descends to such a level? The child, it is true, may must lose some of his respect for his mother. He can never again feel the same confidence in and admiration for his parent.

Let us consider carefully before resorting to "tit for tat" methods.

Birthday in December

Turquoise and Yellow

THE December flower is the holly but there is such an abundance of holly everywhere this month that a change in the decorative scheme may be desirable, so let us introduce the birthday stone in our decorations. This is the turquoise and it may be effectively combined with yellow.

The birthday cake will, of course, occupy the center of the table. On the table have a cover or runners of turquoise blue crepe paper overed with yellow tulle. You can get exquisite paper table covers in damask patterns in yellow and have plain blue paper napkins with scalloped edge. You can also get plates and cups (used as glasses) in the turquoise or yellow.

On center of table stand a high, circular box, which can readily be made of cardboard or a canister may be used. Into this place the favors and bring the yellow and blue ribbons over the top. This box does not require a cover. Arrange blue and yellow malle in a puffy mass to conceal the box. A little asparagus vine mixed in with this will be pretty.

Cover the cake with yellow frosting and decorate the sides and form a border of tiny blue candles to simulate turquoise. Use the yellow rose candle holders and have blue candles. Place the cake on the box and after the cake has been served extend the favor ribbons so guests can reach them to pull the favors.

Between the cake and the ends of the table have low, rolled edge turquoise flower holders filled with small yellow blossoms or a few yellow chrysanthemums.

For the light shades make plain shades of yellow and decorate with sealing wax dots to simulate turquoise.

As to the December birthday gift, turquoise jewelry is now considered very smart and goes well with the season's important colors in dress, so the selection of jewelry should be simple. This color is also much in evidence in china, pottery, rugs, draperies and pillows and such gifts are always appreciated.

Charcoal in the Refrigerator

A HOUSEWIFE remarked she thought when she invested in an electric refrigerator she would have no further trouble with unpleasant odors, but it has frequently happened that the butter had such an acrid taste it was impossible to eat it.

It is not the ice that causes undesirable odors. Every refrigerator should have a deodorizer and the most effective of these is charcoal. Just place a little charcoal, two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient, in a cup or dish and set it in the refrigerator.

Change the charcoal for fresh every two or three weeks and there will be no trace of objectionable odors nor spoiled butter because the charcoal absorbs it all.

Blast Damages
El Cerrito Plant

An explosion at the Great Western Power company plant on Schmidt lane in El Cerrito yesterday severed three high power wires, thereby causing industrial plants in El Cerrito and Albany to close down for a short while.

The pole carrying the wires was ignited and was badly burned. An estimated damage of $200 was done by the explosion, according to officials of the power company. No one was injured. It is believed that a heavy wind causing the wires to swing together was the cause of the explosion.

Five Officers Needed To Put Man In Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—UP—Five detectives whose combined weight is 1015 pounds had an trying-asperating time today while trying to arrest Everett Roffe, 28, an acrobat who weighs 77 pounds.

The detectives had sought a few minutes of diversion by watching a walkathon contest. They swept into action when they noted Roffe, one of the participants, and recognized him as a man wanted on a charge of passing fictitious checks.

The officers, Bill Armstrong, C. Maher, Jim Hansen, Tom Hyland and Leo Bunner held a quick conference and decided only three of them would charge upon the suspect to avoid confusion.

As the trio picked to make the arrest stepped up to Roffe, they said, he hit one detective in the stomach and butted another in the same spot with his head. Then he sneaked under the legs of all of them. Roffe gained speed to leave the building but as he entered the spectators section he ran into the two detectives who had remained behind and was so surprised by the new obstacle that he surrendered.

CRASH LEADER GAINS TIME TO PLEA

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—UP—A sudden decision not to plead guilty to charges of misappropriating $8,000,000 of Guaranty Building and Loan association deposits gained another delay for Gilbert H. Beesmyer in superior court today.

After the arraignment, Le Compte Davis, newly retained defense attorney, told the court that Beesmyer was not ready to enter his plea. Davis said later that Beesmyer would not plead guilty.

Before retaining Davis, Beesmyer had said that he wanted to get the affair over with as quickly as possible. He did not have an attorney when he appeared in court for arraignment Monday and was instructed by Judge Walton Wood to provide himself with counsel.

Davis had only a few hours in which to consult with Beesmyer and Judge Wood gave him until Friday to prepare his plea.

Meanwhile, Earl N. Moore, Beesmyer's associate in the Elmer Oil Co., Ltd., was served with a grand jury subpoena after a 48 hour search. He said that the defendant oil company, in which Beesmyer declared he invested $2,000,000, was put into receivership to protect the creditors and might be returned to good shape by a competent receiver. Moore declared he knew nothing of Beesmyer's dealings with Guaranty.

Mrs. DePalma
Given Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—UP—The alimony hearing of Mrs. Clara De Palma, estranged wife of Ralph De Palma, veteran automobile racing driver, ended abruptly today when she collapsed in tears.

Later, Commissioner Elmer D. Doyle, alimony referee, awarded Mrs. De Palma $200 a month pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance.

De Palma was called to testify at the hearing and said that during the last few years his income had shrunk. He said that he now makes only $15,000 a year as compared with his previous earning ability of $25,000 or more a year.

Mrs. De Palma's breakdown came after she had testified she had only $70 in cash and had bills for clothing, which the driver had urged her to purchase, for about $400. Mrs. De Palma claimed her husband deserted her after 23 years of marriage.

SEARCH FOR LOST RACE ENDED

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 16.—UP—Dr. Byron H. Cummings, dean of the University of Arizona archeology staff, arrived here tonight at the end of a search in southern Sonora for remains of a race of supermen which was cut short by the threatened attack of Yaqui tribesmen.

Disappointed at the sudden termination of the expedition, Dr. Cummings said he was confident that the party was within a short distance of relics which probably would have established the past existence of such a race of giants.

The Indians, however, were angered by the excavations in their burial ground and drove the scientists away after they had made preliminary discoveries. Among other relics they found the fossilized skeletons of five children, one a boy of six feet, eight inches tall.

Three adult skeletons all more than eight feet tall were located in another section where J. L. Coker, a mining man, found them some weeks ago. These skeletons, together with the ones uncovered by the expedition, were destroyed by the fanatical natives as the expedition departed.

Dr. Cummings said he was confident a properly protected expedition would be able to unearth relics of great scientific importance.

Ship In Hunt
For Long Lost
Northern Airmen

SEATTLE, Dec. 16.—UP—The motorboat Dorothea, was enroute toward Alaska today in an attempt to discover some trace of Pilot Robin Renahan and his two companions, Sam Clert and Frank Hatcher, missing since October 28, when they flew north to aid in the search for Capt. E. J. A. Burke's party.

The Dorothea was donated for the rescue cruise after a movement had been started by the Seattle Star, Seattle Yacht club and other organizations.

A group of about 20 men who volunteered for the cruise to northern waters in the search for the missing trio was aboard the Dorothea. The ship's supplies, equipment, etc., were all donated by Seattle organizations.

Word reaching here today said that Pilot R. I. Van Der Byl and Mechanic T. H. Crissy were safe at Fort James.

The arrival of Van Der Byl and Crissy at Fort James leaves only Renahan and his companions to be discovered.

Little hope was held by searchers that the missing trio would be found alive, but it was believed some trace of them would be found if their plane landed on one of the many small islands dotting the British Columbia coast.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—UP—The alimony hearing of Mrs. Clara De Palma, estranged wife of Ralph De Palma, veteran automobile racing driver, ended abruptly today when she collapsed in tears.

NATIONAL DRY LAW IS HELD INVALID

ed group of lawyers who had been planning an assault upon the constitutionality of the 18th amendment.

Thus the judge's opinion was merely his explanation of the granting of a motion to quash the indictment against William H. Sprague and William J. Howey, of Sussex, N. J., accused of possessing and transporting beer. As counsel for these men appeared such legal celebrities as Frederic M. P. Pearce of Newark and Seiden Bacon, Daniel F. Cohan and Julius Henry Cohen of New York.

Article Quoted

Oddly enough, Judge Clark went aside from the arguments of the defense attorneys in arriving at his decision. He declared that he considered the problem one of political science and said he believed that the construction he put upon article 5 was in accord with the principles of sound government.

The wording of article 5 as affecting the decision follows in part:

"Amendments shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress."

A summary, prepared in the office of Judge Clark, illustrated his views in favor of the convention system as opposed to legislatures.

Conventions Told

"He showed," this summary read, "that the convention method of ratification made for greater efficiency in the important business of altering our frame of government. Delegates to conventions, being affected by no politically selfish considerations, he said, are better fitted to deliberate upon fundamental questions."

"Furthermore conventions being chosen after and not before submission of amendments afford an opportunity for the accurate reflection of the popular will. The realization of these factors would give the people a feeling that their voice had been heard and therefore afford to the people a more direct participation in the government of the nation."

Although basing his opinion on political science and psychology rather than upon the stereotyped form of constitutional interpretation Judge Clark did not credit himself or defense counsel with any originality of thought. Instead he quoted from Lincoln's first inaugural address from Andrew Jackson's message to Congress in 1866 and from a speech by Senator Dixon of Connecticut in 1869 to show that the present objections against ratification by legislatures were advanced in the controversy over the 14th and 15th amendments.

No Difference

In concluding his opinion Judge Clark said he wondered why counsel had not raised the question of the validity of the substance of the dry amendment rather than the mode of adoption and proposed such a test in relation to the "due process" clause in the fifth amendment. He pointed out that the supreme court had twice found vaccination and sterilization efficacious in preventing the spread of smallpox and idiosyncrasy and had sustained attacks against them brought under the "due process" clause of the 14th amendment, which is applicable to states.

"Equally," he said, "we think the efficacy of the 18th amendment and its enforcing legislation in preventing the spread of intemperance should be the criterion in deciding upon its validity. We see no difference between improving the health and morals of the people by application of serum or the knife and improving their health and morals."

To determine this efficacy we willingly admit is a task in comparison with which the activities of Hercules in the Aegaeon stables are child's play. We do not believe it can be done, except by the method of testimony offered in open court, with cross-examination, stenography records and the other safeguards of judicial procedure. We do not consider that it can be done in the halls of legislative bodies or in the chambers of executive commissions, where proceedings are subject to political criticism and where witnesses are bound to be the result of a more or less arbitrary selection."

Million Dollar
Dope Cache Found

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—UP—Ten cases containing 1100 pounds of morphine, worth over $1,000,000 at contraband prices, were seized today by customs officers.

The cases were taken from a pier at the foot of Thirty-first street, Brooklyn, after the agents had laid in wait with machine guns for a week in the hope the owners would put in an appearance.

The shipment was brought in on the steamer Alezia of the Fabre line, the agents said, on December 5.

When no one showed up to claim the shipment, the officers decided finally that the owners had been "tipped" and confiscated the drugs.

Three Killed, Three Hurt In Bandit Fight

DANVILLE, Ill., Dec. 16.—UP—wounded, staggered behind the house.

Police circling the cornfield, heard two shots. A moment later one bandit identified as Harry Martin surrendered. In the field they located the bodies of his two companions, one, Harry Wilson of Chicago, apparently was hit by a posse and about 50 years old, had committed suicide when he realized his bullet. The other, tall gray-haired and about 50 years old, had committed suicide when he realized his capture was imminent.

Other police, meanwhile, fired into the hog house where the wounded bandit had attempted to hide. He came out, identified himself as Harry Hunter and then collapsed. He was taken to the Danville hospital where physicians said he probably would die.

Plane In Hunt

After the police left the farm with their two captives and the two bodies, Hanley heard a noise in his coat shed. He popped open the door with a gun in his hand, to apprehend the fifth and last member of the bandit gang. The latter also was brought here.

The airplane, which joined in the chase, incidentally did not arrive at the farm until the whole affray was over. It brought with it, however, a reporter whose sudden arrival provided still another magazine thrill to the proceedings, a "beat" for the United Press and the Indianapolis Times.

Scissors, razors and tool grinding, saw filing, keys made. 264 1/2 St. 11-30-ft.

Loot Recovered

To complete the story, the sheriffs and deputies of half a dozen counties in Indiana and Illinois through which the chase led, recovered the $13,000 the bandits took from the Citizens' State bank at Clinton, Ind., a few hours before.

Almost as soon as the robber sixtette sped away from Clinton, Chief of Police Everett Helm and Deputy Sheriff Joe Walker of Dana, Ind., roared after them in the chief's coupe. A National Guard airplane, took off soon after, to aid in spotting the fugitives.

The bandits had a head start, however, and soon captured a more powerful car from a passing motorist. They changed automobiles four times in all until Helm and Walker began to gain on them. Then they poked a machine gun from the back window of their last car and started to fire at their pursuers. Walker lurched seriously hurt in the corner of the chief's coupe, but the latter continued the chase.

Cars Join Hunt

Other automobiles loaded with officers joined in the hunt, until finally the bandit car came to a halt in the farm yard of Leo Moody near Seidell, Ill.

"We're out of gas," shouted the gray-haired bandit leader, who pointed a pistol at Moody and Carl Hanley, farm hand. "Give us your auto quick."

Before Moody could comply, the automobile load of posse members skidded into the yard. The attackers started firing before the cars had stopped.

Two Wounded

Three of the bandits dashed into a nearby cornfield. Two others, one

CHARITY WORK HERE TO BE DISCUSSED

Christmas aid to be given the poor of Richmond this year will be handled in a systematic method if the plan to be evolved at a meeting of representatives of the various charitable groups is carried out.

These representatives will meet at the home of George Sanderson, 300 Russell avenue this afternoon at 1:30 to systematize the giving by those planning that aid. Duplication of charity will not be encountered if a suitable plan is worked out today.

The general unemployment situation has been said to be the cause of many appeals sent the various aid groups. An appeal was made yesterday when the announcement of the meeting was given to the effect that all agencies engaging in the relief work will receive all materials that can be used. Non-perishable food was especially needed by many of the groups to fill the demands made upon them. Merchants of the city have in many instances donated potatoes, vegetables and other edibles for the work.

Probe Opens In Death Of Flier

CULVER CITY, Dec. 16.—Investigation into the crash which resulted in the death of Miss Jessie Ligertwood, 27-year-old Hollywood aviatrix who succumbed after a plane in which she was riding collided with high power wires while attempting to land at the airport here after dark, started today.

Federal authorities were investigating the crash which occurred Sunday when Frank Bush pilot of the craft struck the wires near the airport.

Miss Ligertwood made her way to the emergency hospital here and succumbed shortly afterwards of a broken neck and a fractured skull. Bush was only slightly injured in the crash.
